BODES ILL FOR MR. DONHAM

Cleveland Finally Takes Notice of the Terre Haute Postoffice Outrage.

The President Reported to Be Burning with Indignation and to Have Discussed the Matter at Yesterday's Cabinet Meeting.

Roosevelt Likely to Demand Removal of the Civil-Service Law Violator.

Indiana Postmasters Dismissed by the President for "Offensive Partisanship"-Coming Changes in the Revenue Service.

DONHAM MAY BE "FIRED."

Cleveland Growing Indignant as He Learns the Fac's in the Terre Heate Outrage. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

Washington, May 23 .- The Terre Haute drama is now rapidly leading up to the climacteric scene. The imbroglio is fully developing, and all the characters are being assembled for the finale. Civil-service Commissioner Roosevelt arrived to-day. In the Cabinet meeting to-day the matter was discussed, being brought before the Calinet by the President himself, who has never treated the matter in the same nonchalant manner that has characterized the attitude of Postmaster-general Bissell toward Mr. Donnam's flagrant violation Mr. Swift, now in his possession, would shortly be supplemented by one from Mr. Roosevelt. The President, however, laid special stress upon the action of Mr. Donham in dismissing the old letter carriers, a direct and willful violation, not of civilservice regulations, but of the regulations of the Postoffice Department intended for the protection of the United States mails. The President would have carried the discussion to a point where matters would have been made very unpleasant for Mr. Denham had he not been assured that a report would shortly be submitted from the Civil-service Commission supplementing that now in his possession prepared by Mr. Mr. Roosevelt returned to Washington to-day from Terre Haute, where he personally conducted an examination of the employes who were present during the time Mr. Donham was carrying on his highhanded proceedings. He has with him full stenographic notes of this examination, as well as a full report from Mr. E. D. Bailey, of the Civil-service Commission, who was present when Mr. Donham evicted Mr. Greiner from the office and attempted to install his own force. Mr. Roosevelt will go carefully over the matter and will then prepare a full and detailed report on the case which he will submit to the com-ham on the ground of his violation of civ-il-service laws, because, with one removal to his credit, wherewith he could placate civil-service reformers, Mr. Cleveland could thereafter condone any number of future violations.

PARTISANS REMOVED.

Cleveland Dismisses Indiana Republican Postmasters for Political Reasons. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

WASHINGTON, May 28 .- The following appointments to postoffices in Indiana were made by President Cleveland to-day: William Cunningham, at Alexandria, vice M. Tomlinson, resigned. Francis M. Harbit, at Elwood, vice J. M. Overshimer, resigned. John J. Nolan, at Evansville, vice H. G. Bennett, removed.

John M. Turner, at Monticello, vice G. B. Ward, James S. Parnell, at New Carlisle, vice G. W. John C. Jillson, at Plymouth, vice J. W. Siders.

Charles Lieb, at Rockport, vice J. R. Hoffman,

It will be seen that in four cases the in-cumbent has been removed. Of these four removals, two—those of New Carlisle and at Plymouth—were in Representative Conn's district, while the other two—Rock-port and Evansville—were in Representative Taylor's district. The charges preferred were the same in each case-offen-sive partisanship-and similar charges have been filed against the incumbent of nearly every presidential postoffice in the State. Unpleasant as must be the confession, it cannot be denied that in at least one of the tour cases of removal, men calling themselves Republicans did not hesitate to lend themselves to the slimy task of making charges of political activity at Minneapolis against a fellow-Republican. Not even Mr. Voorhees claims the doubtful honor of having procured these removals.

Hammond's Man Got the Sack. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

LOGANSPORT, Ind., May 23 .- The appointment of John M. Turner to-day, to the Monticello postoffice, establishes a precedent in the Tenth district which will cut quite a figure. Congressman Hammond, before he had taken the oath of office, and before Cleveland was sworn in as President, announced his postmasters for the Tenth district. His man for the Monti-cello office was Stephen Lowe, but an election was held two weeks ago, at which Love refused to run. Turner received 288 votes of the 289 cast, and as a result of that election gets the Monticello postoffice.

REVENUE COLLECTORS.

General Change in the Service to Take Place in the Next Two or Three Weeks,

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WASHINGTON, May 23.-A general change of internal revenue collectors will take place during the remainder of the present month and in the beginning of June. This is necessary for the reason that the beginning of the new fiscal year dates from July 1, and the old collectors are expected to finish their reports while the new collectors are getting their bonds ready. As nearly as it is possible, the President will permit | ome, superior to calomel and quining collectors to serve their four years, although there is no term fixed by law or custom for any one connected with the internal revenue service. There has been considerable talk of consolidating districts, but it is hardly likely that with the extraordinary pressure for office any reform of the kind will be inaugurated. Most of the Kentucky, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana and Pennsylvania collectors will be removed and their successors appointed. Included among the present incumbents are some of the very best men ever in the service, who have never failed in the slightest particular, and against whom no charges can be brough:

EULALIA ENJOYING HERSELF.

Tally-Ho Trip and a Serenade-The Princess Asks for the "Star-Spangled Banner." WASHINGTON, May 23 .- The Princess Eulalia and the Spanish minister, this morning, took a drive through the north western part of the city and this afternoon the royal party enjoyed a tally-ho trip to Cabin John's Bridge, about nine miles above the city on the Potomac. The Duke of Temames mounted the box and handled the reins. Behind him sat the Infanta and the Marchioness of Arco, Hermosa. The others in the party were the Spanish minister, Prince Antonio, Senor Don Pedro, and Commander This evening the Marine Band serenaded the Infanta. After rendering four pieces, including the Spanish national air, Prof. Fancuilli, the leader of the band, asked an attendant to ascertain if there was any favorite piece the Princess wished to have played. She expressed a desire to hear the "Star-spangled Banner." During its rendition the Infanta appeared at the window, and resting her hands upon the window sill, leaned out to enjoy the strains of the American national air. The assemblage expressed their delighted appreciation of this gracious act on the part of the Princess and Mrs. Davis.

expressed their delighted appreciation of this gracious act on the part of the Princess by breaking into subdued cheering and clapping of hands.

The dinner given to-night by the President and Mrs. Cleveland to the Infanta Eulalia was made an occasion of much dignity. The White House conservatories had been fairly depleted to furnish rare flowers for the decoration of the table and the apartment where the dinflowers for the decoration of the table and the apartment where the dinner took place. The large state diningroom was used, and it never looked so brilliant or so tastefully arranged. The entire lower floor, the East Room, Blue Room, Red Room, Green Room and private corridors were decorated profusely. The Infanta and party arrived at the White House at 8 o'clock. Stationed in the main hall of the White House was the Marine Band. At 8:15 the band rendered the Spanish national air and the guests marched down the private corridor to the state dining hall, where thirty-eight covers had been laid. At the center of the table, on the right-hand side, sat President Cleveland, with the Princess on his right, and just opposite the Princess on his right, and just opposite sat Mrs. Cleveland and Prince Antonio. On the right of the President and the Princess were Secretary of State Gresham and the Marchioness of Arco-Hermosa.

WASHINGTON, May 23,-The appointment to-day of Samuel Blackwell, of Alabama, to be Third Auditor of the Treasury Department, to succeed Captain Hart, will be a bitter disappointment to Daniel McDonald, of Plymouth, and Elwood Avery, of Frankfort, both of whom had hoped to succeed Captain Hart.

Jonathan Peters, editor of the New Albany Ledger, returned home to-day after a visit of several days to the capital, Reports from forty-four of the sixty-three internal revenue districts show that 5,413 Chinese have registered. The largest registration from a single district is from Colorado, where 1,500 registered.

The Navy Department to-day completed arrangements for conveying the Columbus caravels-the Santa Maria, Piuta and Nina-from New York to Chicago. They will be towed from New York to the mouth of the St. Lawrence, and from there to Advices have been received at the State Department to the effect that the difficulty between Corea and Japan, growing out of a disagreement regarding import duties on grain, has been settled. The matter went so far that the Japanese minister had been withdrawn and serious trouble threatened.

The United States ministers to Japan and Corea acted as mediators.

Mr. Bernard Goode, of Detroit, Mich., was to-day appointed superintendent of the Dead Letter Office, vice D. P. Leibhart, resigned.

ANOTHER WITHDRAWAL

The Monarch, the Largest Distillery in th Country, Secedes from the Whisky Trust.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

PEORIA, Ill., May 23,-Another distillery has been added to the list of seceders from the Whisky Trust. W. H. Rich, acting for Corning & Co., of the Monarch, called upon President Greenant to-day, and made a demand for rent due the firm by the Distillers' and Cattle Feeders' Company to the amount of about $5,000. Upon being informed that the rent was held in abeyance until a revaluation was made, and could not be paid at this time, Mr. Rich said that he was instructed by Mr. Corning to give notice that the lease was forfeited and that the Monarch would be taken possession of by him and run independently of the trust. The Monarch makes the sixth great Peoria house to withdraw. It is by far the largest house in the trust. It has a daily capacity of eight thousand bushels, and is capable of grinding out almost forty thousand gal-lons of finished goods daily. It is a mag-nificent plant, the most complete in the country, and, with the other five seceding houses—the Peoria, the Northern, the Manhattan and the two Woolner distilleries is capable of supplying the entire trade of the country. In regard to the claim of revaluation made by the trust as an excuse for nonpayment of rent, the seceders state as to their houses there has practically been a revalnation, and that there is hence no excuse for nonpayment of rent. They say that the value was fixed last fall, and that the officers of the trust knew it. There will be a meeting of the board of directors of the Whisky Trust to-morrow to consider the situation.

Battle Over the Briggs Case Begun is the Presbyterian General Assembly.

Majority and Minority Reports Submitted, Both Becommending that the Appeal of the New York Presbytery Be Entertained.

Judicial Court Organized by the Assembly for Determining the Case.

Preliminary Skirmish in Which Rev. T. C. Hall Routed the Lawyers-Briggs Not Allowed to Speak-Other Meetings.

THE BRIGGS CASE,

Morning Skirmish in the Assembly Followed by the Report of the Judicial Committee. WASHINGTON, May 28.-Big men toomed up in the Presbyterian General Assembly this morning-big men physically and mentally. There were the tall figure of Rev. Thomas C. Hall, the broad frame of Elder Eudaly, the great form of Judge Wills, of Gettysburg. There were others equally burly and brainy. It was a skirmish preceding the battle of the giants. Voices rang out loud, and clearly, and earnestly in a short and sharp debate over a proposal to refer overtures relating to the Briggs case to the indicial committee. Anti-Briggs men opposed such a reference, but the proposal was finally carried, not because of the strength of the Briggs side so much as the superior strength of the position they held on this particular point. In this matter they had the committee on bills and overtures with them. The lawyers threw themselves into the midst of the conflict with the theologians and were wersted. Rev. Thomas C. Hall routed them with ecclesiastical law. The right of petition was teresting day. Immediately after the opening exercises this morning, under the roles, Dr. Young, chairman of the committee on bills and overtures, took the floor to present a report from that committee distributing a number of bills and overtures to the several com-mittees of the assembly. Among them were nine bearing directly or indirectly upon the case before the judicial committee maintained. It was the opening of an in-

-the Briggs case.

Rev. Charles Booth, of New York, secured the floor and entered his protest against the obvious attempt to make the judicial committee a sort of trial court by pouring in upon it these overtures for and against the case which it was considering.

Professor Brown, Professor Briggs's co-laborer and sympathizer in Union The-ological Seminary, next got the floor. "There are some of us here," he said, "who are giad to know that there are fifty or sixty of these overtures that have been have a right to know the sentiment of the church upon any subject before it, and the only proper way to secure a knowledge of the sentiment is through the committees of

The moderators' judicial eye next fell upon Dr. Herrick Johnson, of McCormick Theological Seminary, Chicago, one of the foremost Briggs leaders in the body. "It is not a question of interpretation of law." he said, "that these overtures present. They only ask a reference to the synod of the case if it is found to be advisable. This matter may be properly reached by a consideration of these overtures. These petitions give us light as to the voice of the church, whether we shall try the case or send it to the synod."

REV. T. C. HALL TAKES A HAND. Rev. Thomas C. Hall, of Chicago, loomed up in the middle aisle, and his appearance evoked a storm of applause, which showed that the Briggs element in the assembly was by no means an inconsiderable one. "Precedents and practices in civil courts," his clear voice rang out, "have no weight with us. No court would have taken up the prosecution of an innocent man. [Ap-plause.] Ecclesiastical precedents are overwhelmingly in favor of the right of pe-tition. It is a right that every citizen pos-Dr. Young, in concluding the discussion, stated that the committee had no zeal in this matter unless it was for consistency of action on the part of the General Assembly. "We are in favor of giving the committee all the light upon the subject possible." he said. "We have nothing to hold back: we have no fear of the final result. Give what may be called the weaker side, if you please, the benefit of all the doubt in the

The recommendation of the committee as to the disposition of the overtures was then adopted by a decisive vote. The report of the committee on home missions was read and adopted. Ex-Moderator Smith, president of the United Christian Commission, organized for work in connection with the United States army, submitted a statement. It was to the effeet that the commission must discourage enlistment of the sons of Christian families into the army, unless some safeguards, now lacking, are thrown about them. Gambling in the army is not prohibited, either by law or regulation, and is encouraged by the example of older officers and soldiers. The post canteen affords unrestricted opportunity for, and induce-ment to, drink; the barracks place Christian soldiers at a fearful disadvantage, exposing them to the vices and indecencies of irreligious members of the rank file. Sunday work, not called for by any exigency, is still required by the army authorities. The recommendations of religious teachers in the army for the benefit of soldiers do not receive the approval or consideration of the authorities, in fact they are discouraged. The commission recommended that the army orders of Aug. 6 last, on the subject, be revoked and that chaplains be appointed for every regiment. The recomproved and the report received. A recess was then taken.

BRIGGS ON THE PLATFORM. At no time since the General Assembly began its sessions has there been so large an attendance as was assembled when, at 2:30 o'clock, Dr. Craig called the assembly to order. It was generally known that the report of the judicial committee in the Briggs case was the special order, and this was sufficient to growd the house. Galleries, and even the stairways were packed to suflocation. The platform was filled with distinguished visitors and members of the assembly, Among them was the tall, familiar figure of Senator Cullem, of Illinois. Dr. Brigge on this momentous occasion made his first appearance on the floor of the house. He occubied a chair on a low platform immediately in front of the pulpit and to the right of the moderator. Just to his right and in front of the moderator, also, sat Rev. G. W. F. Birch, chairman of the prosecuting committee, while in the main aisle just behind Drs. Briggs and Birch sat Mr. J. J. McCook, a leading member of the same committee. Dr. Briggs sat quietly throughout the preliminary proceedings, apparently unmindful of the fact that he was the observed of all observers. As Dr. Baker read from the report, Dr. Briggs from time to time took notes as quietly as if, instead of being the central figure, he was, at most, counsel of the man under religious indict-

Before the reading of the report began Mr. McDougal, of Cincinnati, moved that the case before the assembly take preced-ence of all other business, and this was speedily carried. The venerable Dr. Smith. of Baltimore, probably anticipating an outburst, sought in advance to pour oil on what he thought might develop into troubled waters. For this reason he sug-
